Captured a Spanish Vessel. KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 2.—Col. Guspierre, formerly of the French army, and Col. Ortega, formerly of the Venezuelan army, with Lieuts. Trias and Carlos Garcia, arrived here today from Nassau. These men say they captured a Spanish vessel off the coast of Cuba and conveyed the crew and provisions to the insurgents, after which they embarked on board the captured vessel and arrived at Nassau, where they were detained three days in quarantine. They also report having been present at the action of Cascorras, and state that Maximo Gomez and other insurgent leaders have sufficient arms and ammunition to carry on the winter campaign. In conclusion they say that the island, from Matanzas up, is called Cuba Libre. The men are members of a special commission from Puerto Principe.

Arrivals. From San Francisco, per bk Andrew Welch, Nov. 19.—Miss M. McCarthy.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD SIGNAL STATION, Nov. 19, 10 p. m.—The weather is clear; wind, light; north.

The schooner Sarah and Eliza sailed for Waialua yesterday.

The Kauai will sail for Makaweli and Waimea at 4 p. m. today.

The Lehua got away on her regular Hawaii route yesterday.

The Toyo-Maru is still in port. Her time of departure is uncertain.

The schooner Ka Moi sailed yesterday morning for Hamanaku with a cargo of general merchandise.

It will not take the bark Andrew Welch very long to discharge, judging from the work done yesterday.

At a late hour last night it was learned that the Rio de Janeiro would probably not get away until late this afternoon.

The steamer Kinau will sail on her regular Maui and Hawaii route at 10 a. m. today, returning on Wednesday, November 25th.

Six special guards were put on the Custom House force yesterday to serve during the rush of work due to so many foreign steamers arriving.

The O. S. S. Australia has shifted alongside the bark Alden Besse at Allen & Robinson's wharf, to leave the Oceanic wharf free for the Monowai.

The bark Albert will receive most of her sugar after the bark H. Hackfeld finishes discharging. She has about 4,000 bags on now. The Albert will get away about December 8th.

The P. M. S. S. Rio de Janeiro arrived in port at 3 p. m. yesterday, and will sail at 10 a. m. today. The Monowai left a half hour after the Rio de Janeiro.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 4th.—A telegram from Seattle announcing the death of Capt. Thomas P. Warren, received in this city yesterday, caused more general sorrow among those interested in the whaling industry than any of the news that has come from the Arctic this season. Warren was a boat header on the whaling steamer Belvedere, and was killed by the flying timbers of his boat, which was smashed by a whale that turned upon it when struck. The Belvedere left Uonalaska October 25th with 12 whales. Capt. Warren's body is being brought home in her. Warren was very well known in this port. He was a man about 42 years of age, and has a wife and young son living at Long Island, N. Y.

EMPRESS WINS A RACE.

A Spin that Decides the Supremacy of the Pacific. VICTORIA, Oct. 21.—Honors unduly wrested from the big white trans-Pacific liner Empress of Japan were fully retrieved on the ship's last voyage, completed when she arrived here from the Orient at 5 o'clock last evening. The opposition liner, which claimed the supremacy of the Pacific from an alleged race on the Japan's previous trip, is the O. & O. steamship Coptic, which San Franciscans have never ceased boasting of. The big ship, similar in size to the Empress, was met in Kobe on the 7th instant, and the appearance of both craft in port at one time inspired much rivalry, not only between the steamship men but landsmen as well, who bet freely and heavily on the relative merits of the vessels. There was much, too, in the name "superiority;" jealousy between the different shippers. In leaving port both captains were consequently prepared. They weighed anchor at the same time and started for Yokohama together. It was a race and every pound of steam was crowded on either steamer. There is a reserve power, however, which the Empress liners never bring into use, but up to the limit of this the Japan's engines worked. The greatest excitement prevailed among those on board both vessels, particularly among the officers of the Japan, who watched with unbounded interest the stars and stripes gradually disappear astern. Next day about 11 o'clock the run was over for the Empress. Not so for the Coptic, however, for it was 3 o'clock when she put in an appearance at Yokohama.
